Actions to Stop Doing

- There is a general lack of motivation in the team, progress is slow. We should stop procrastinating because it prevents us from progressing, puts us behind, and causes us to miss deadlines.
- We should stop going off topic during scrum meetings because it makes meetings less effective.

Actions to Start Doing

- We should start meeting up more outside of scrum meetings because it increases productivity and allows for better inter-team communication.
- We should visit the lab more often so we can get hands-on experience working with the 3D printers and get insight from Todd.

Actions to Keep Doing

- We should keep researching softwares and technologies we can use in our project because doing so will allow us to better understand the inner workings of our project and pick the technologies that will best suit our needs.
